C.A.R.E., Inc. is a recognized source of education and support for agencies and individuals seeking to help survivors break free from the cycle of becoming abusive to themselves and others. They also have developed, and are the leaders of, a community based program for survivors of trauma. They endeavor to bridge the gap between the needs of the survivor of abuse and resources of the community, thus benefiting both. People interested in becoming effective helpers to those with abuse issues, especially from the Biblical perspective, will find many opportunities to receive training and encouragement from the C.A.R.E. network.
